Dedication

Boyhood and girlhood pass beyond us and we enter manhood and womanhood benefited by an education that has been twofold. We have been trained for the temporal and the spiritual life; these two in God's plans form, as it were, one indivisible tapestry.

It is the temporal life that furnishes man with the threads with which the spiritual life is to be woven. The whole takes on a glorious entity as the Holy Spirit's guiding influence helps us to form the pattern as we weave, and Who sends the gleaming shuttle of His precious graces through our actions.

It is fitting, then, that we, Seniors of the Class of 1947, in gratitude for days that have been, and in petition for the days to be, dedicate this thirteenth volume of THE PETREL in honor of THE HOLY GHOST, SPIRIT OF LIGHT AND WISDOM.

CLASSES

SPANISH FOR PRACTICE AND PLEASURE

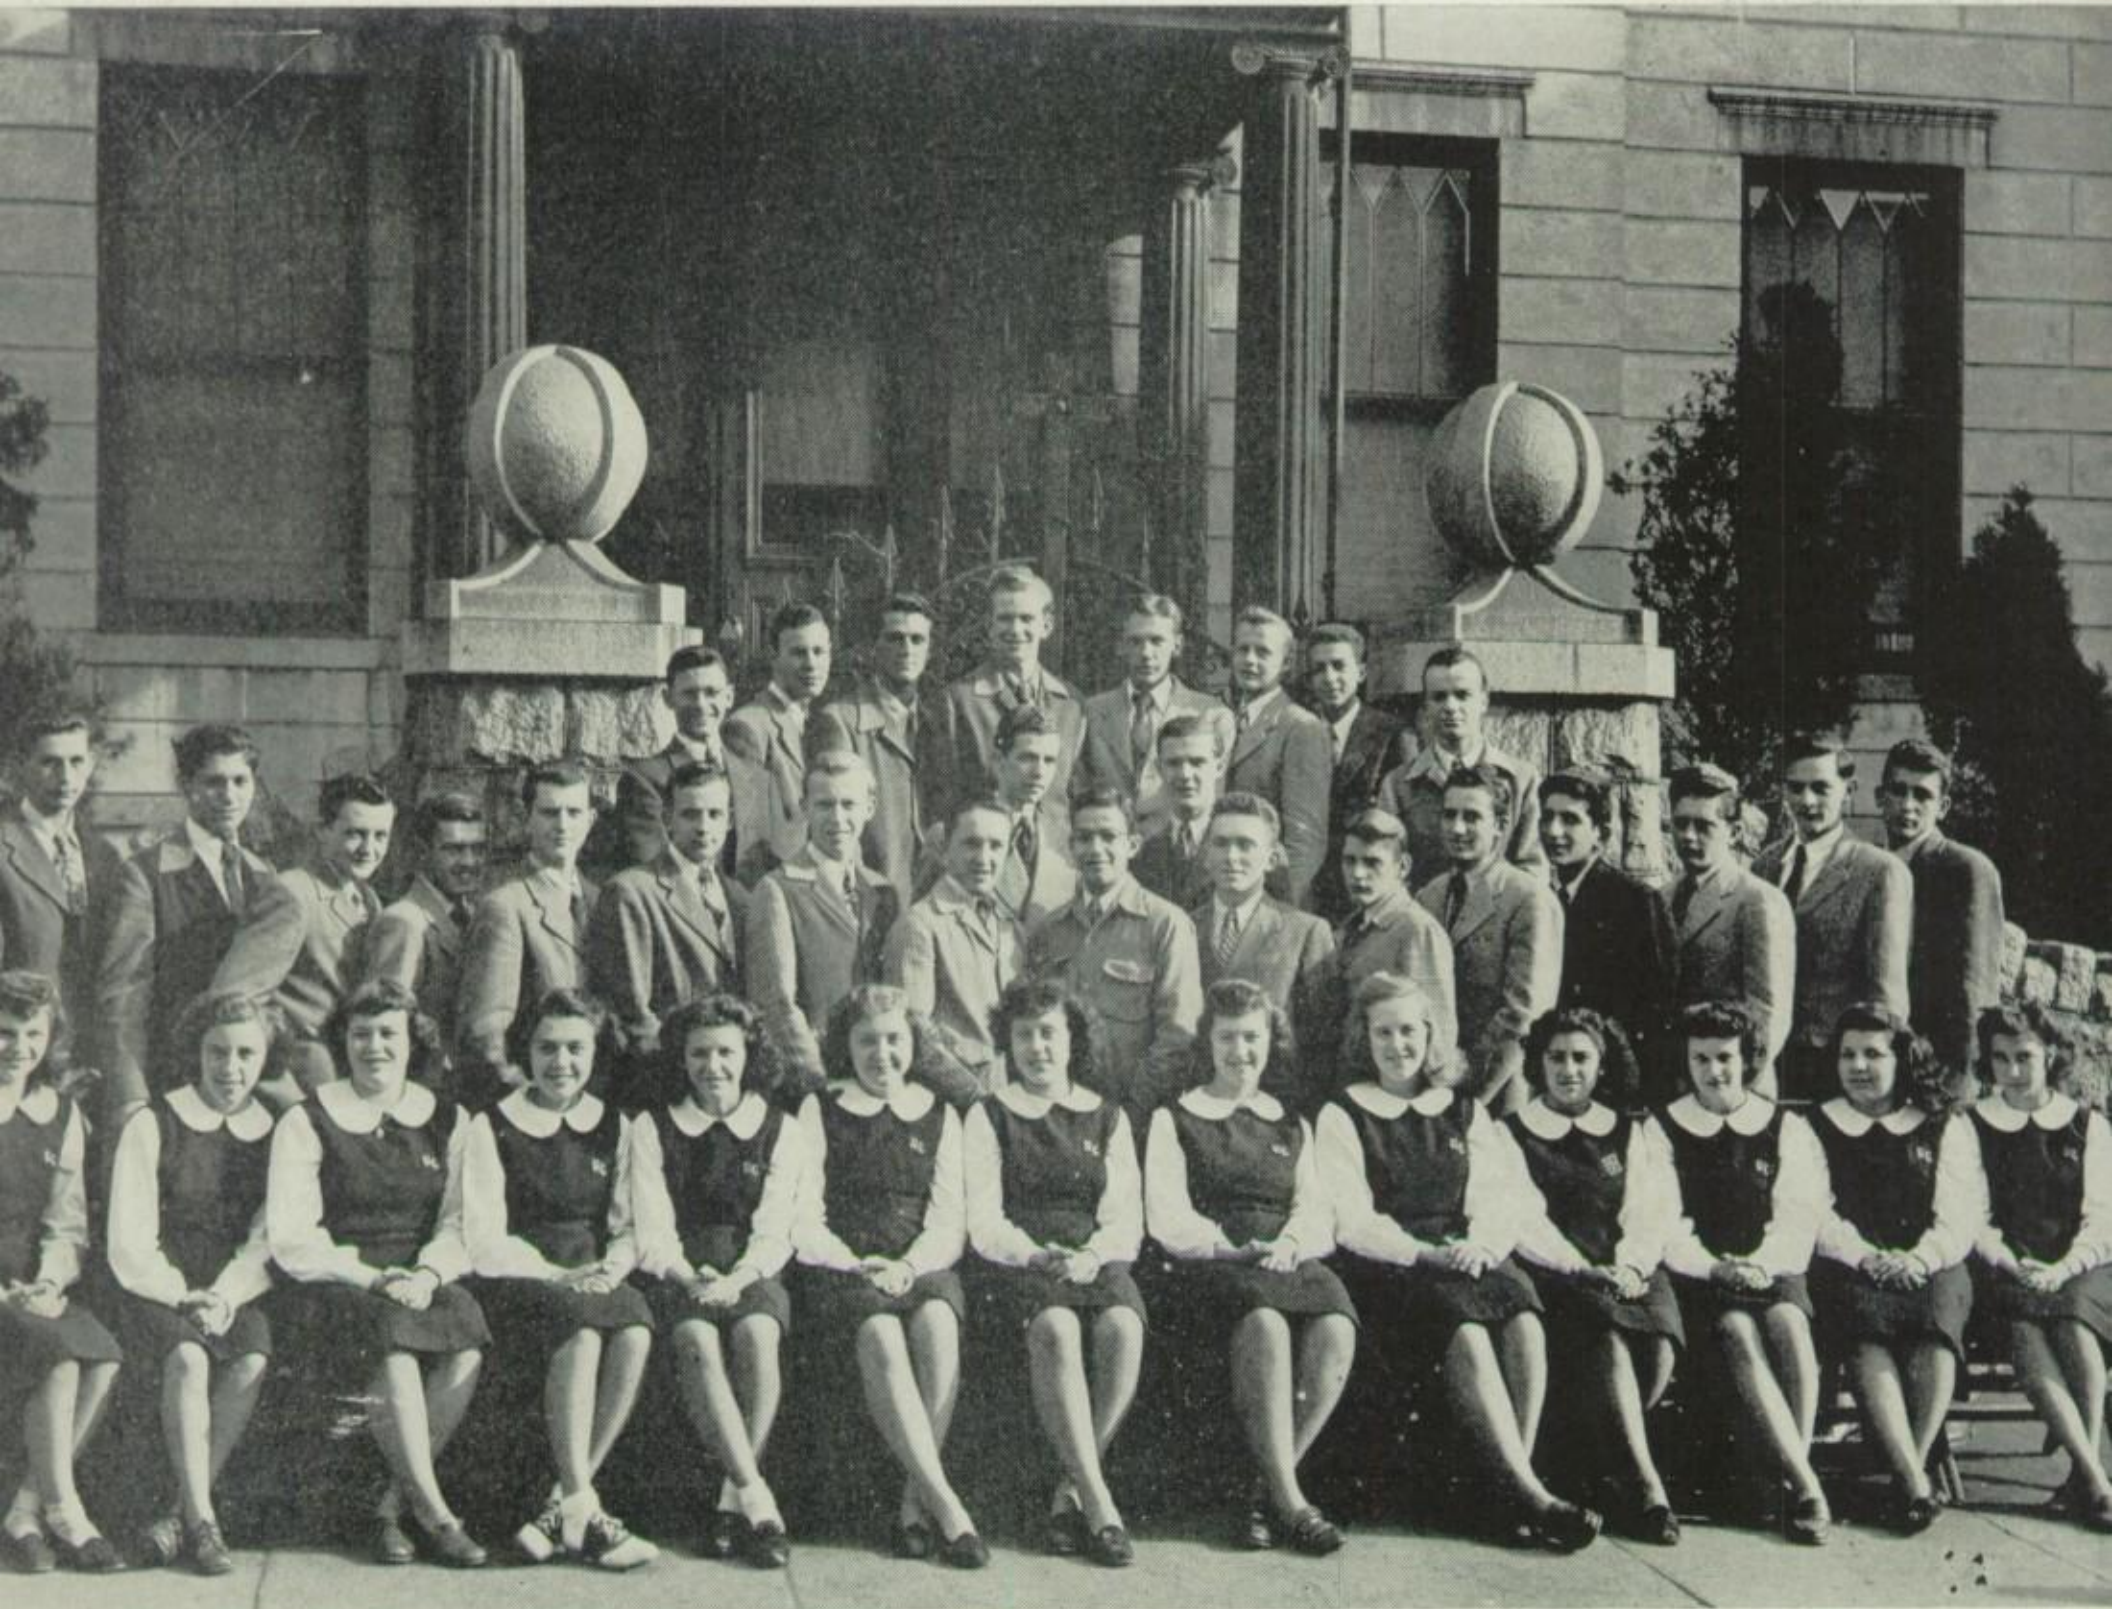

Curios from "south of the border" enthrall this group of Seniors

Should these "buenos amigos" travel to Latin America they will have no trouble with the menu. A. Kase points out savory dishes mentioned in the day's lesson.

Second row—Victor Straka, Nicholas Giovanelli, James Lumley, George Zaterac, Charles Phillips, Charles Madl, Frank Maslar, Albert Peters, Salvatore Natoli, Arthur O'Neil, Richard Noll, Charles Galeo, Mauro Paolini, Thomas Miley, Robert Bueher, Patsy Varney.

Homeroom Advisor: Mother Irmalita.

SENIORS . . . NATIONAL PROBLEMS

Theresa Stremba and Carl Blessing illustrate the meaning of the three R's in their social studies class.

Second row—Dolores Breton, Dorothy DeTemple, Evelyn Stern, Mary Marino, Esther Woytko, Gloria Cuccinotta, Rose Buono, Kathryn De Angelis, Marcella Gay, Marie Rapposelli.

Top row—Gertrude Ratajczak, Natalie Dombrowski, Claire Razzano.

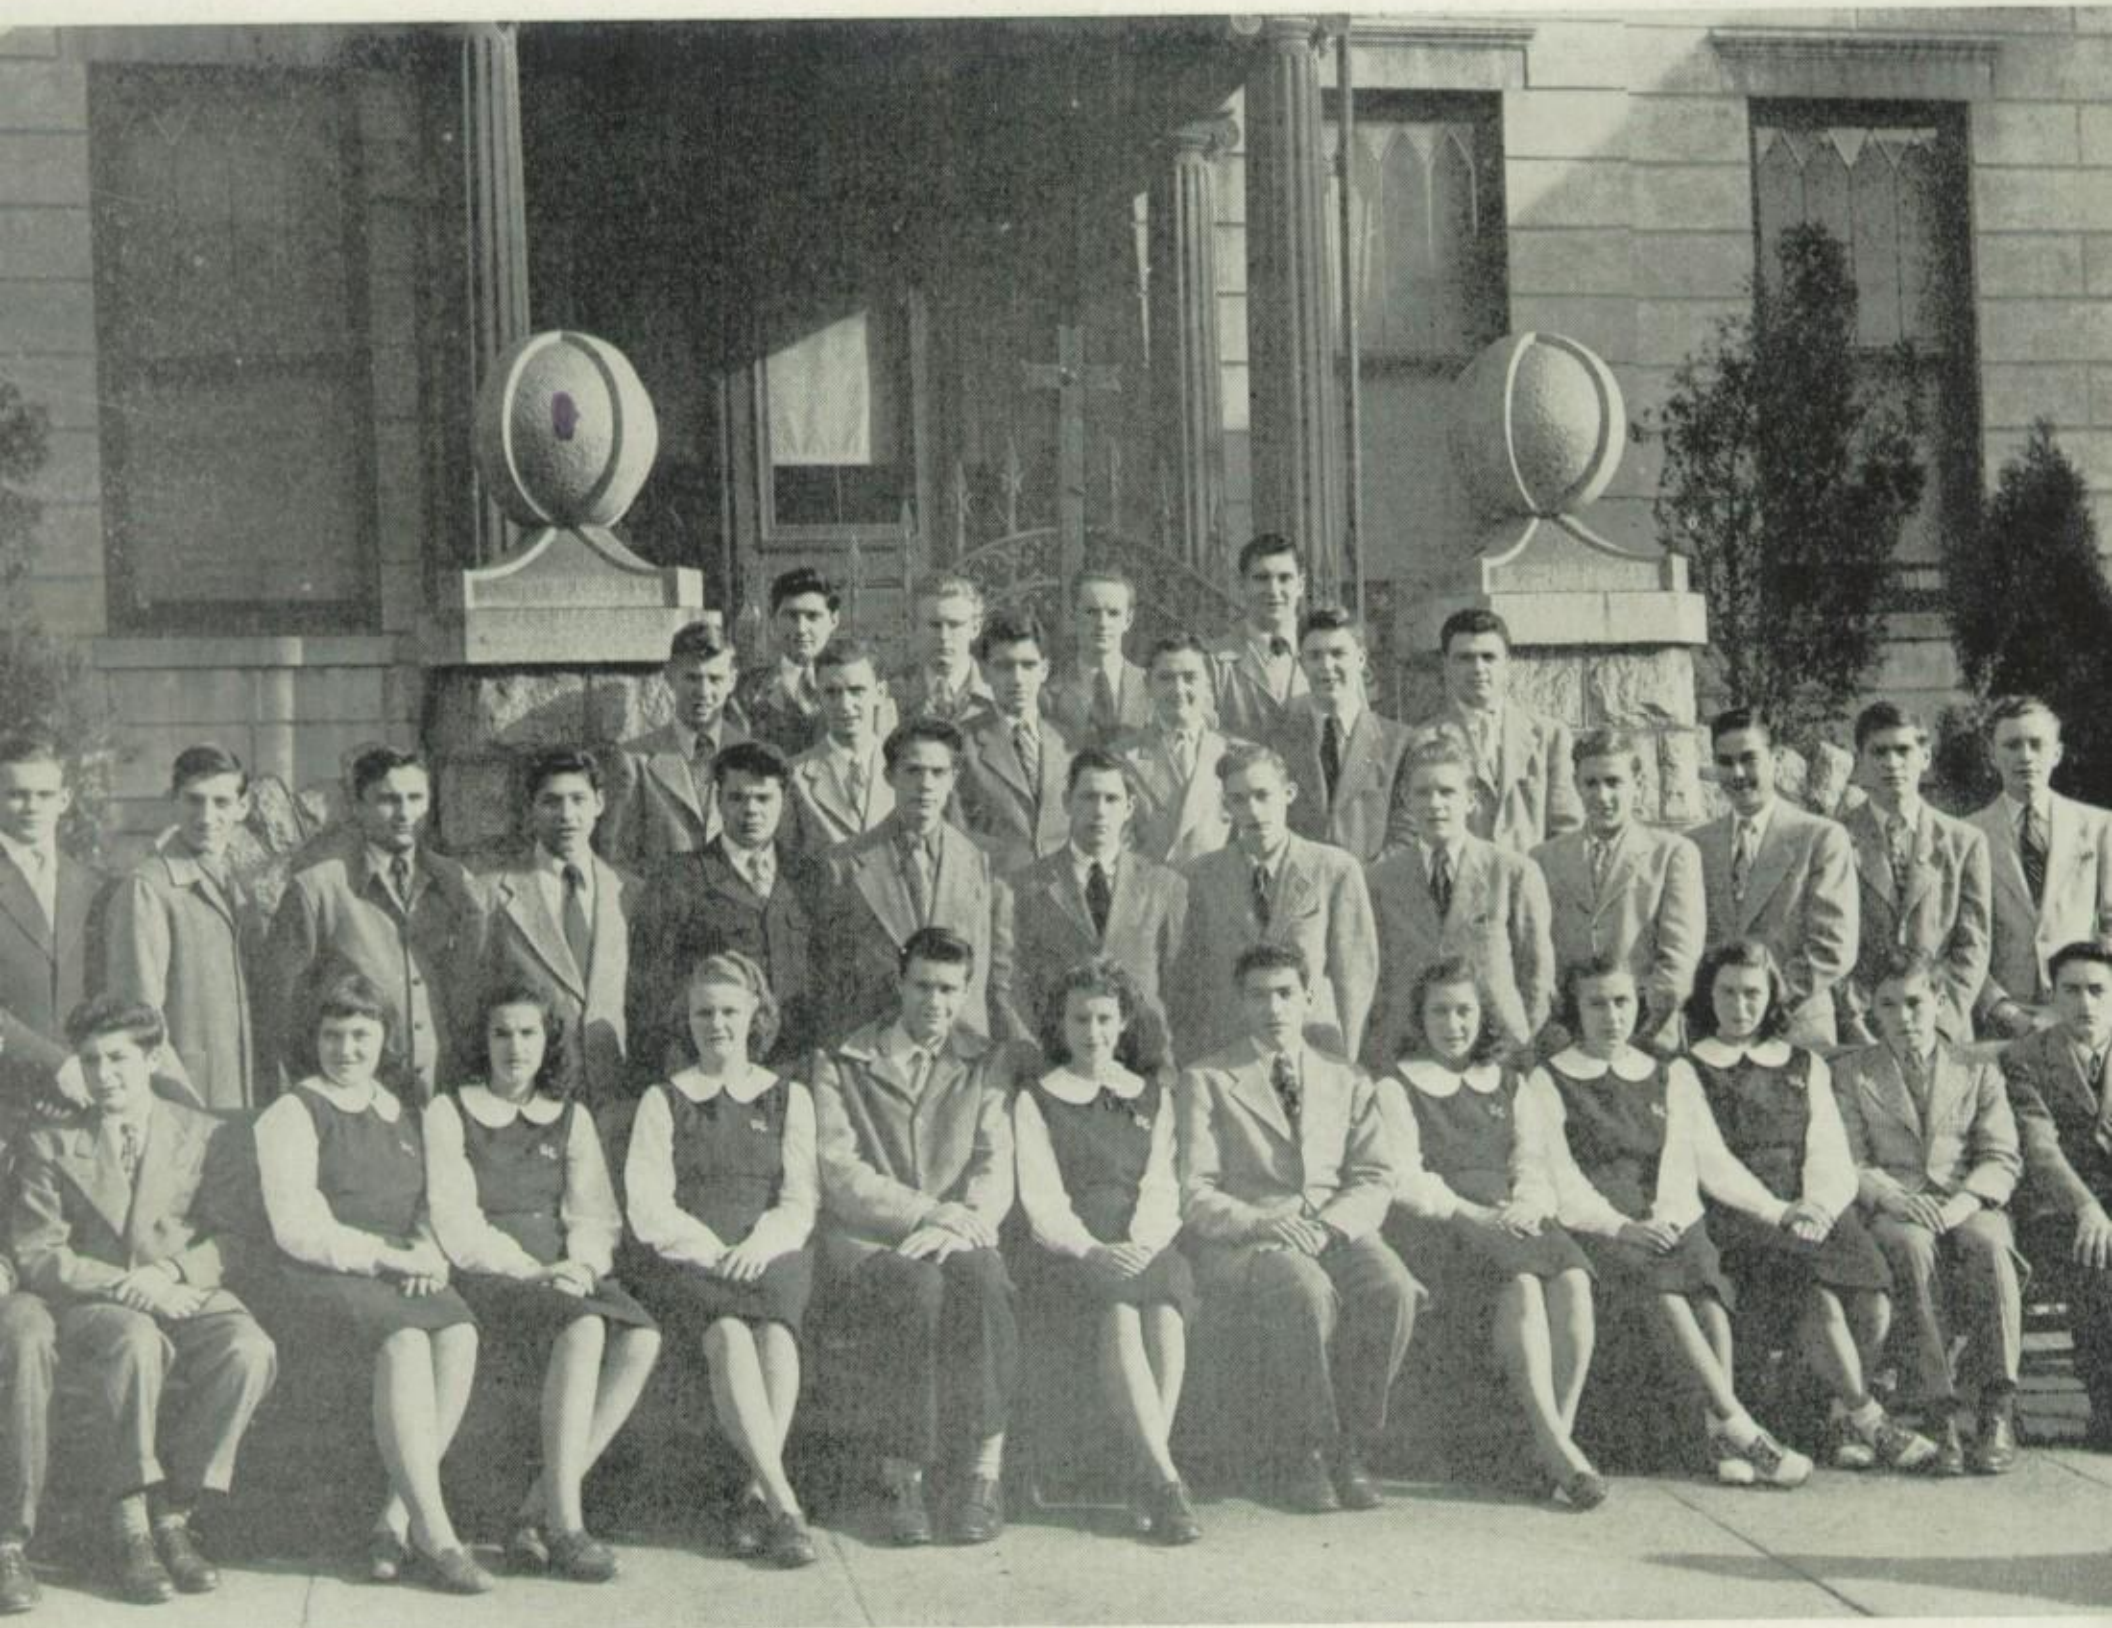

Homeroom Advisor: Sister M. St. Alphonsus.

TYPING . . . SENIOR YEAR

Speed—Aim of every Senior . . . Although Arthur O'Neil is the "lone male" in the class, he keeps up the pace with the girls.

JUNIORS

Third row—Ronald Wesley, Stanley Yuros, William Giangiacomo, Leo McGee, Brendan Perry, Vincent Giangiacomo.

Top row—Philip Ciofalo, Edward Foley, Irvin Hartmann, Vincent Maggio.

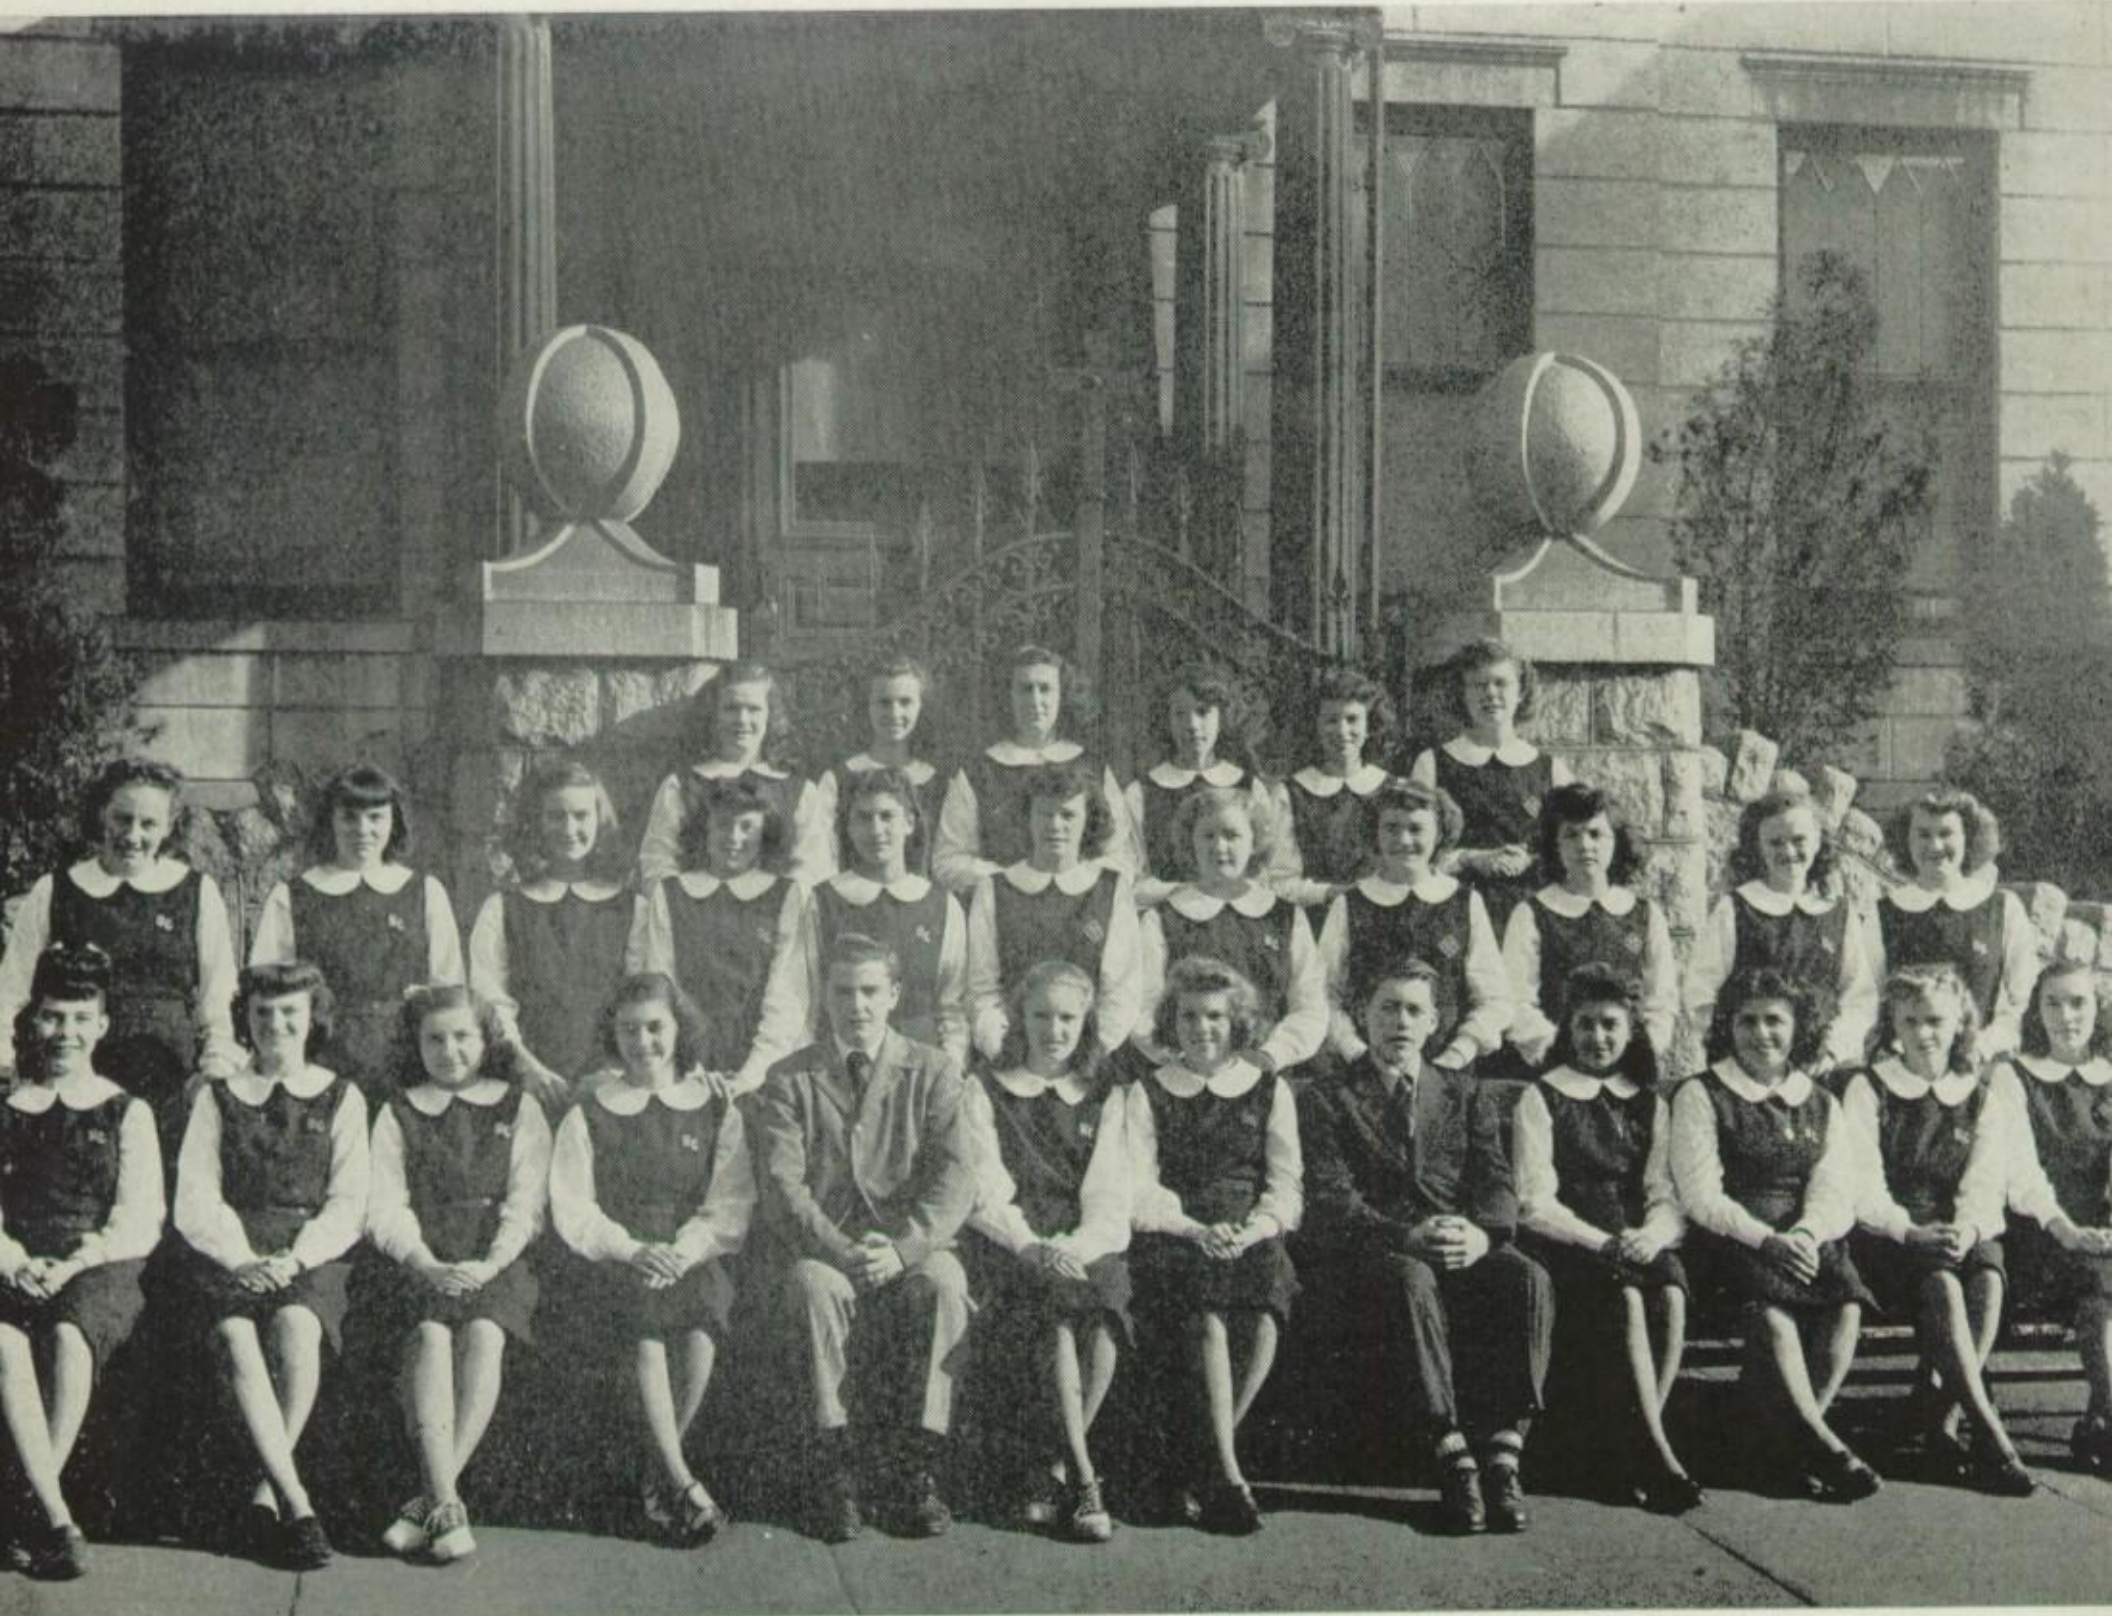

Homeroom Advisor: Sister M. Jacqueline.

SPANISH . . . JUNIOR YEAR

Second row—Jane Huck, Blanche Sterling, Nancy Weitzel, Rose Mary Snyder, Mary Dennis, Dorothy Wisniewski, Anita Frantkowski, Rose Ann Nelis, Jean Capilo, Ann McHugh, Florence Pacene.

Top row—Margaret Monahan, Genevieve Kowalkowski, Jean Creole, Marie Torcivia, Mary Capellupo, Alice Symanowicz.

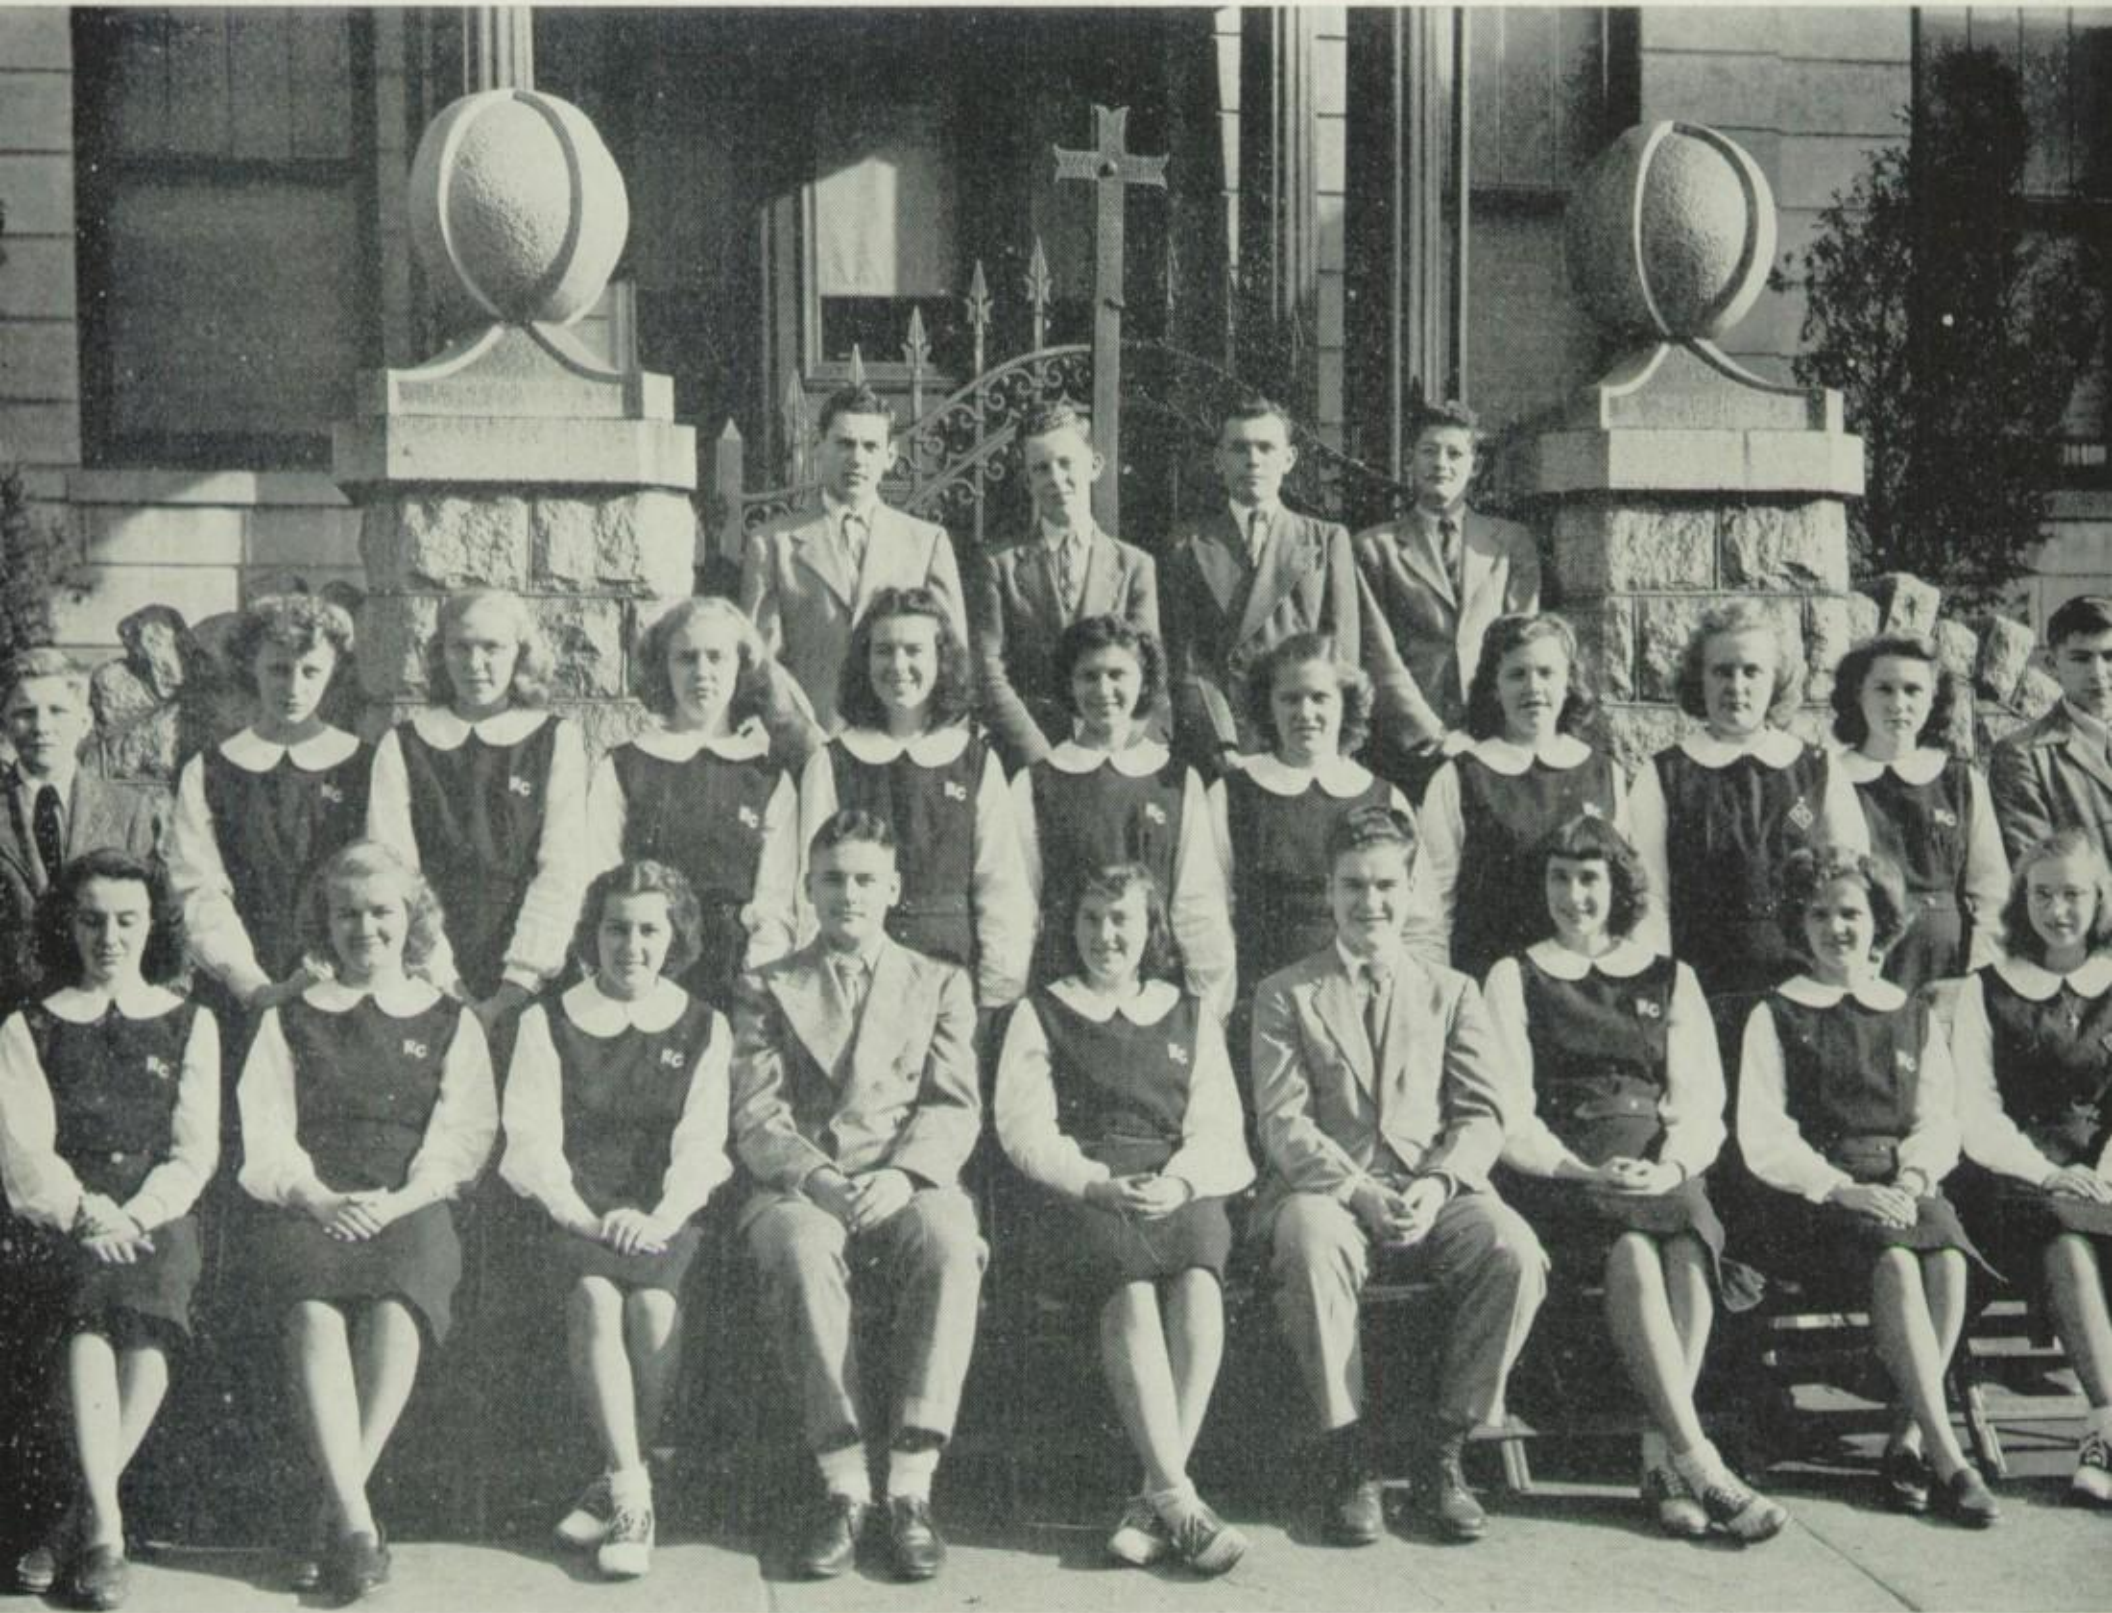

Homeroom Advisor: Sister M. Natalis.

TYPING . . . JUNIOR YEAR

There is a new tone in the typing room. The muffled click of the new streamlined models of typewriters gives the Junior Commercial group the mood for the modern "jet-propelled" office. J. Fitzpatrick is already a candidate for the "executive type".

SOPHOMORES

Second row—Francis McDevitt, Joan Parvenski, Theresa Quinter, Anna Jacisin, Barbara Murphy, Margaret Oros, Dolores Grabiak, Charmaine Hoole, Anna Vida, Dolores Karczewski and Paul Wyton.

Third row—Joseph Pluto, John Foely, Joseph Lacey, and John Jacisin.

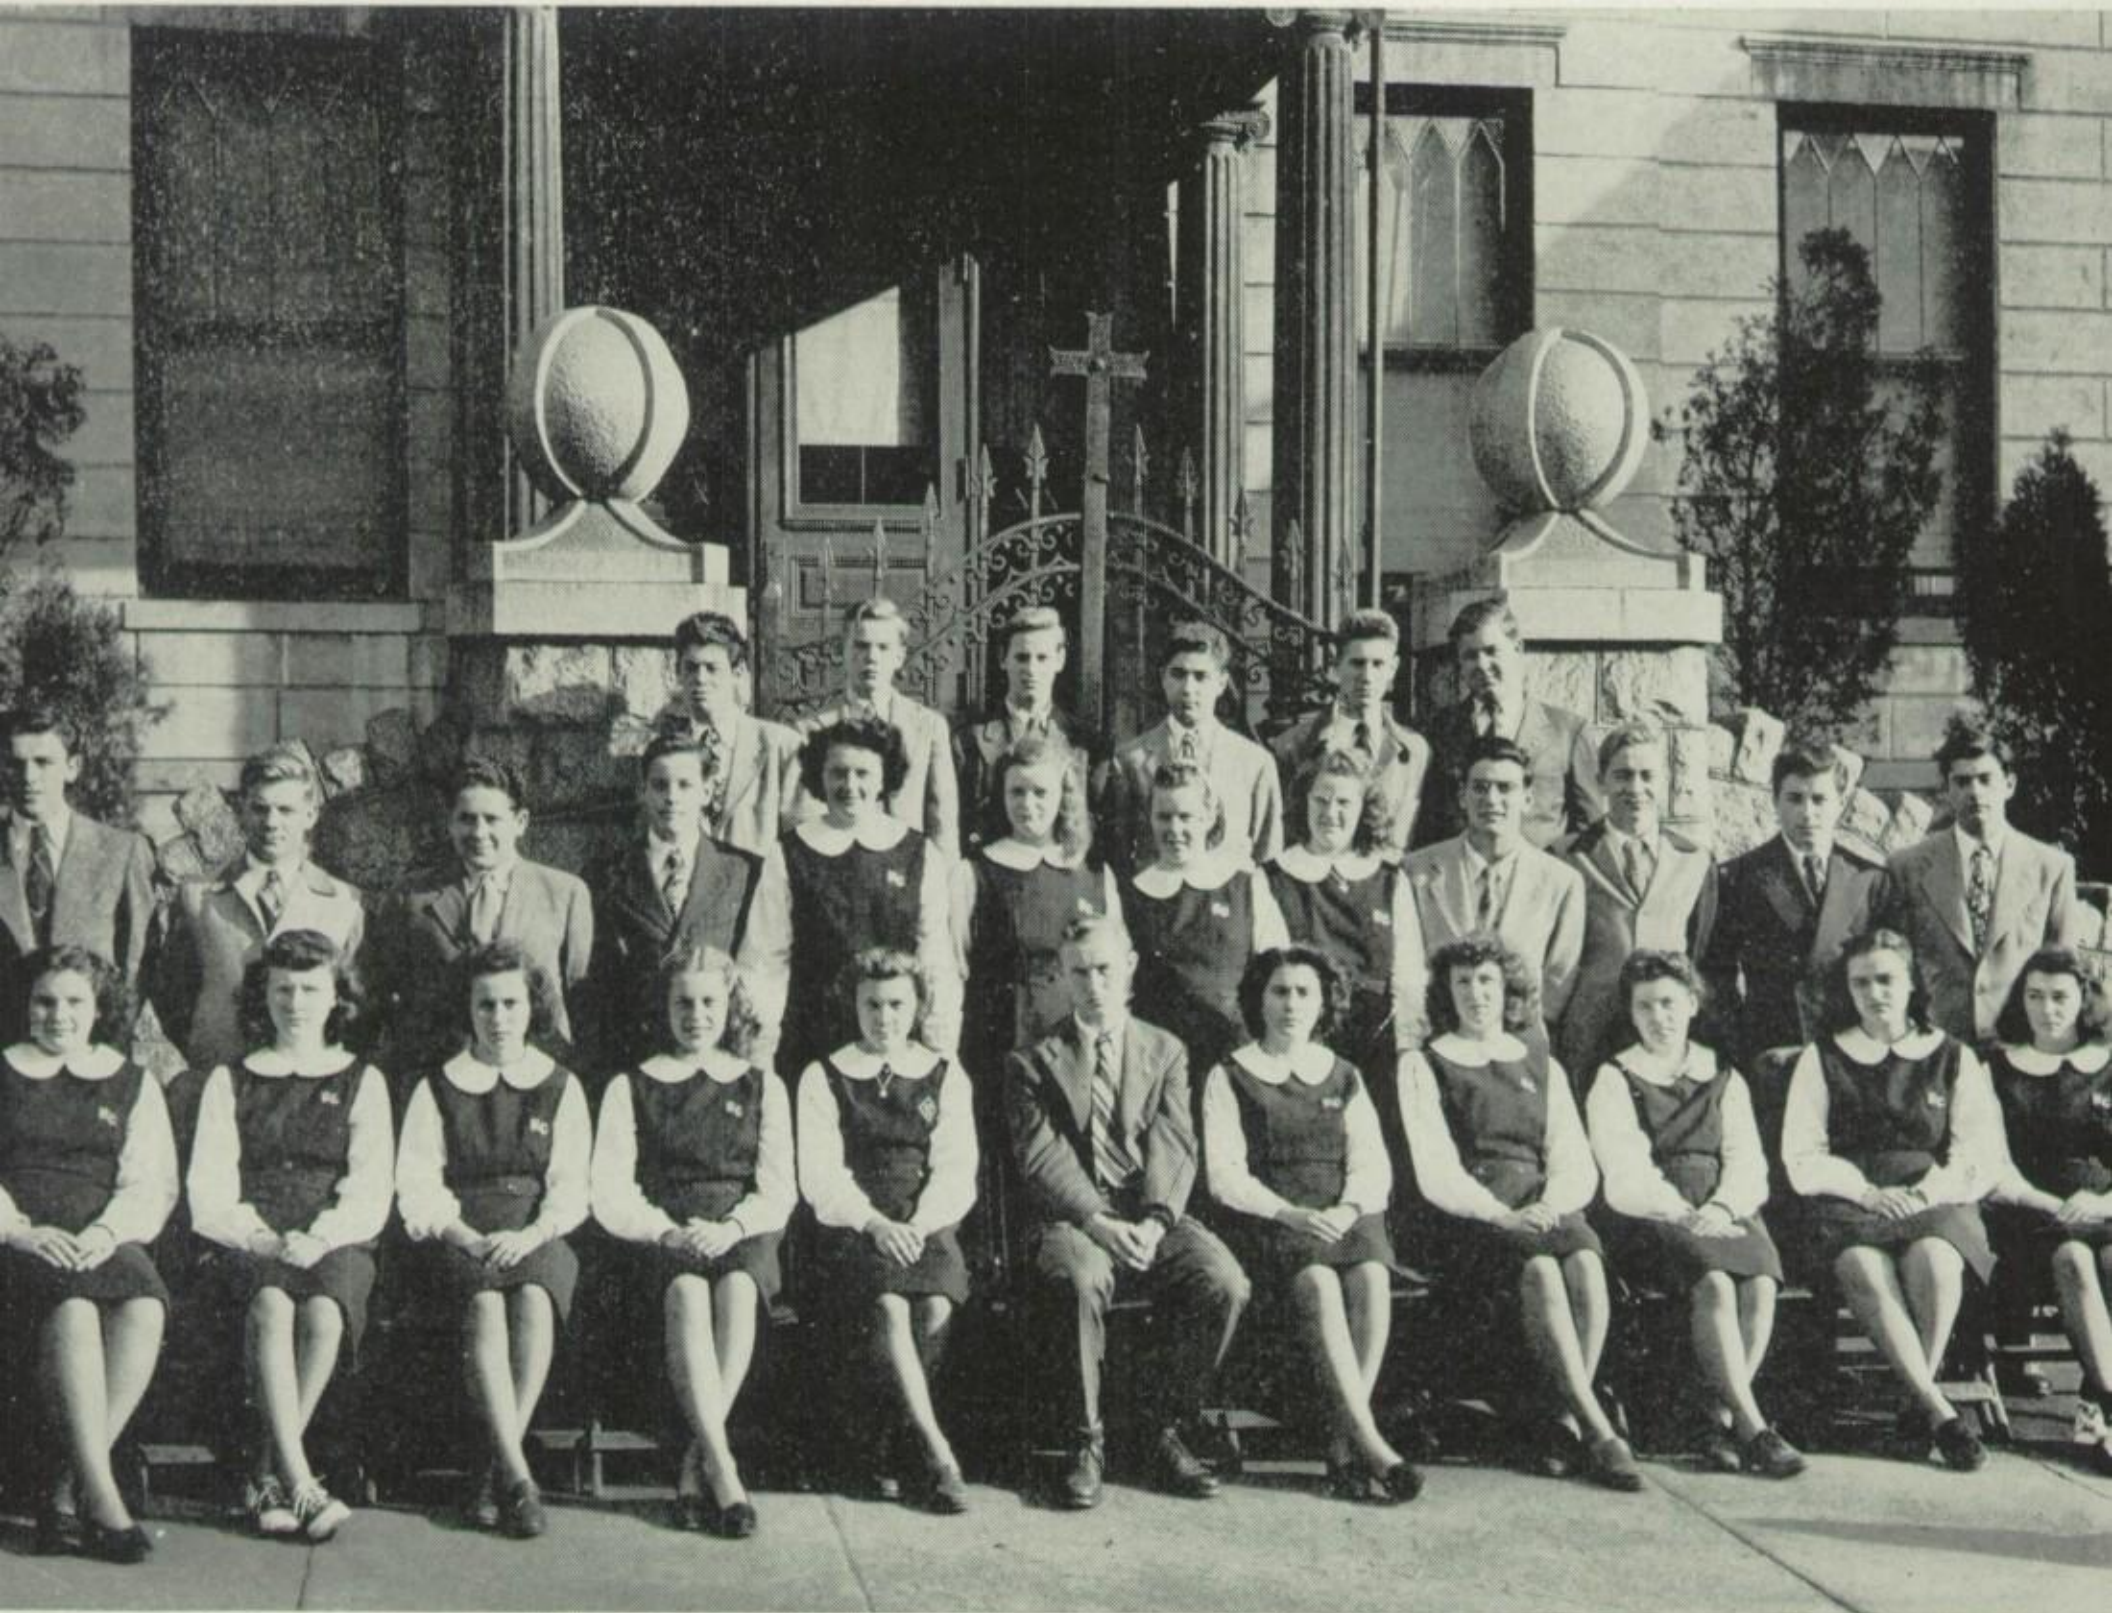

Homeroom Advisor: Sister M. Jane de Chantal.

RELIGION . . . SOPHOMORE YEAR

Second row—Paul Garman, Joseph O'Neill, Gerald Iezzi, John Linette, Mary A. Grealy, Gertrude Danowski, Elizabeth O'Toole, Teresa Didyoung, Frank Napoli, Joseph Sokol, Albert Heinecke, James Sparagana.

Homeroom Advisor: Sister Mary Philip.

SOPHOMORES . . . HEALTH

The Sophomore Health Class seems alert to hear J. Stabolepbki's response to D. Zaorska's queries.

FRESHMEN

First row, left to right—Mary Mullarkey, Dorothy Ross, Mary Ane Cronrath, Patrick Serba, Joan Texter, Jane Leshner, Leo Blessing, Elizabeth Kunstek, Rita Straka.

Second row—Thomas Keene, Patricia Dillon, Jeanette Murray, Elizabeth Sterling, Francis Vojtasek, Frank Matarazzo, Rita Usher, Eileen McGee, Doris Rapposelli, Carl Valentino.

Homeroom Advisor: Sister Maria Rose.

ART . . . FRESHMAN YEAR

We wonder who will be the best when these talented Freshmen artists complete their course?

Second row—Joseph Rauen, Dorothy Robinson, Christine Markovsky, Christine Katrinak, Euphemia Concordia, Geneva Robinson, Marie Petrocelli.

Top row—Edward O'Neill, Dominic Guarino.

Homeroom Advisor: Sister Miriam Rosaire.

FRESHMAN . . . ALGEBRA

The Freshmen gaze at the blackboard as D. Folk jots down the intricacies of the night's homework.

Senior Shorthand . . .

Transcription of letters—and agile fingers of the Seniors swim over the pages leaving a maze of shorthand characters for the uninitiated to puzzle over.

Camellia Natoli gives the signal, "On the Air" as members of the Junior panel discussion start their pros and cons on the question.

Left to right—P. Cialfalo, M. Barrasso, R. Repko, C. Natoli, I. Hartmann, R. Westley, S. Patti.

Junior Shorthand . . .

Shorthand must not only be written, but read. These alert Juniors find excellent practice in oral transcription of the stories and letter models found in the Gregg writer.

As B. Pettinatto illustrates the chemistry lesson's high lights, these studious Juniors are finding out for themselves.

The Freshmen get acquainted with the world of today as they study World History.

Neat and tidy from the rear but, let's go to the side with Sister Mary Phillip and take a peek at the geometry D. Zaorska and W. Droege are illustrating.

FRESHMAN ENGLISH

Freshman girls and boys look on as J. A. Duffy and E. Kunstek exhibit the chart to further the interest of the religion class.

CATHOLIC PRESS WEEK

The Catholic Press predominates in this Junior English session.

SENIOR BOOKKEEPING

The busy commercial section of R. C. are working strenuously at their book-keeping.

SOPHOMORE LATIN

E. Zeto and D. Grabiak explain from their Latin texts the Swiss muster rolls to an interested Latin group.

SENIOR ENGLISH

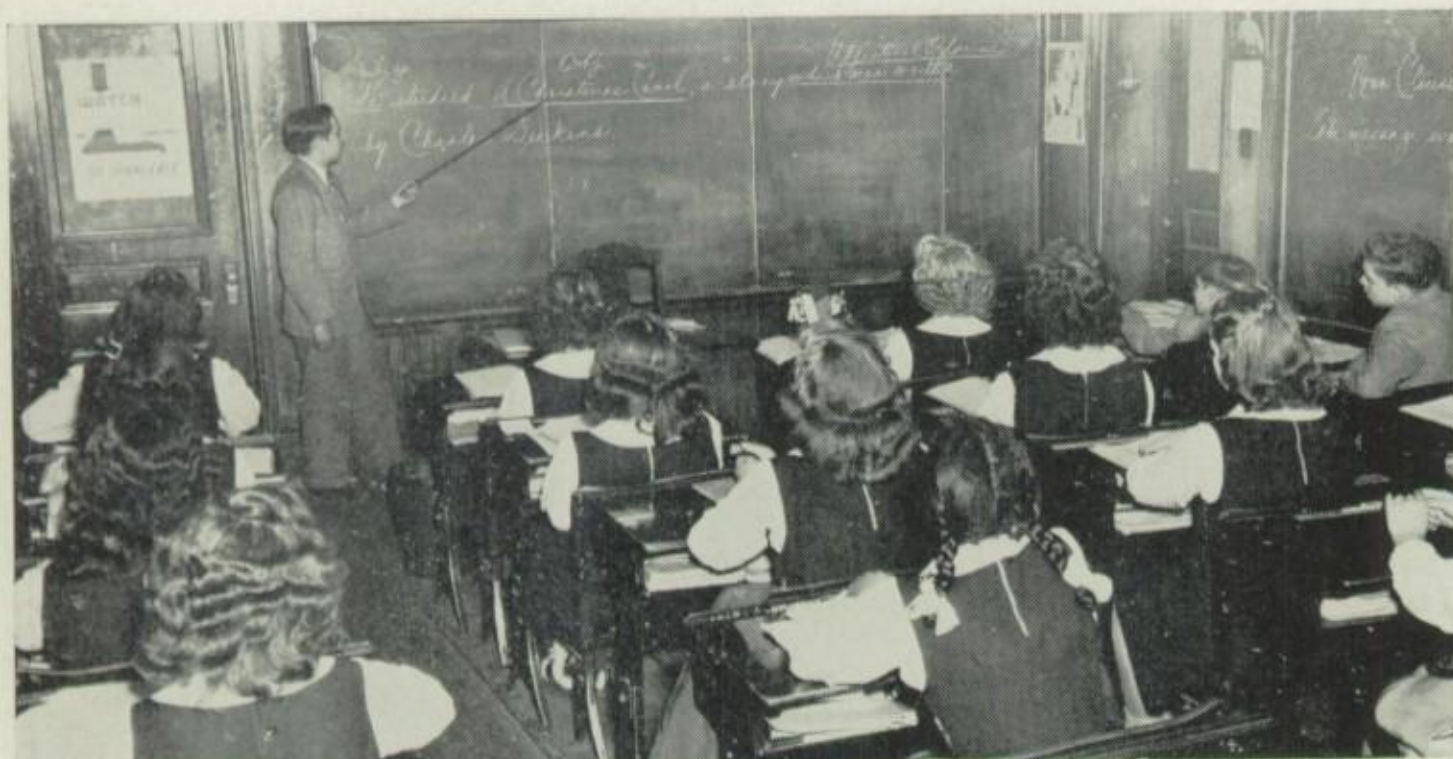

While the class take notes on the English drama, Dolores Breton makes sure that the photographer gets the picture.

AMERICAN HISTORY

An interested Junior Scientific group follows Joseph Ross as he traces American territorial growth and expansion.

Freshman English

Grammar is the backbone of the English language. David Folk analyzes a complex sentence as the class follow attentively.

Freshman Science

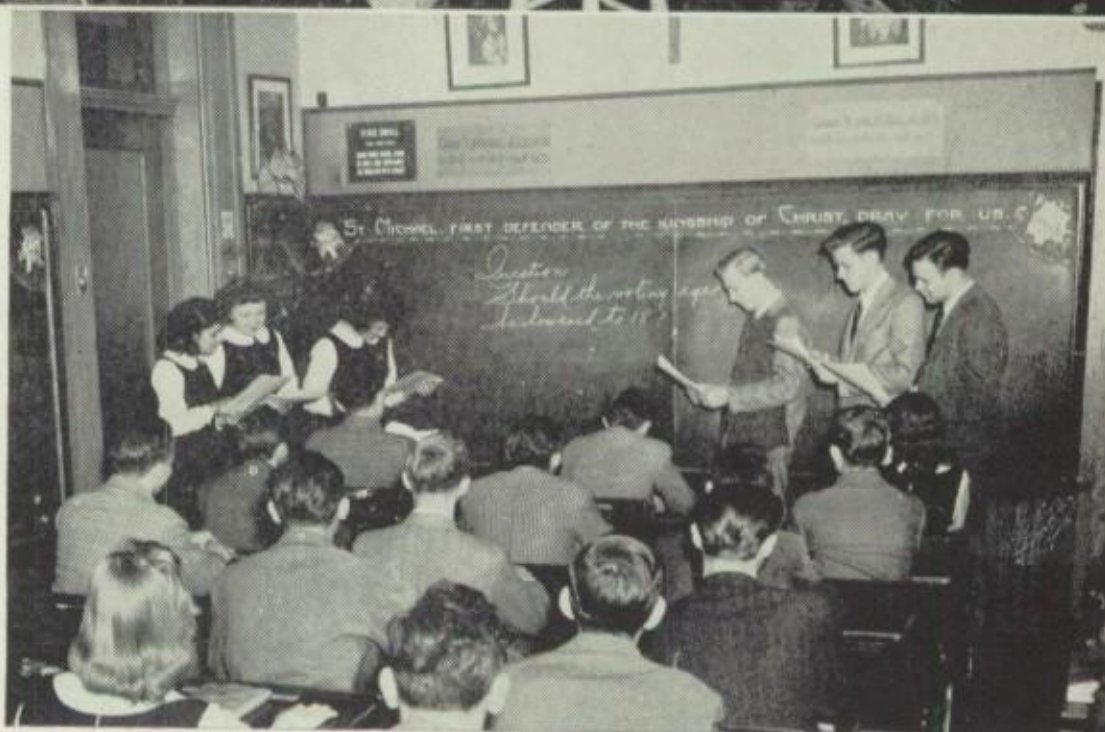

General science is that fascinating field wherein the Freshman glimpses his first sight of the here-to-fore unknown world revealed by the microscope.

L. Sacco points out findings on the chart as P. Saupee, M. Yonkovitch and E. Smulligan take turns at the microscope.

Senior physicists experiment on Boyle's Law. Who could be more interested than G. Zaterack and C. Galeo? In the left foreground R. Gruber and T. Cain study their results.

Seniors take part in an impromptu Junior Town meeting with C. Crimaldi, E. Ravel, Rita Talarico, F. Maslar, P. Lawlor and J. Tester forming the panel of speakers and questioners.

Sophomore Biology

The scene is set and J. Danowski at the micro-projector entertains the class with slides of the various species of Protozoa.

Junior English

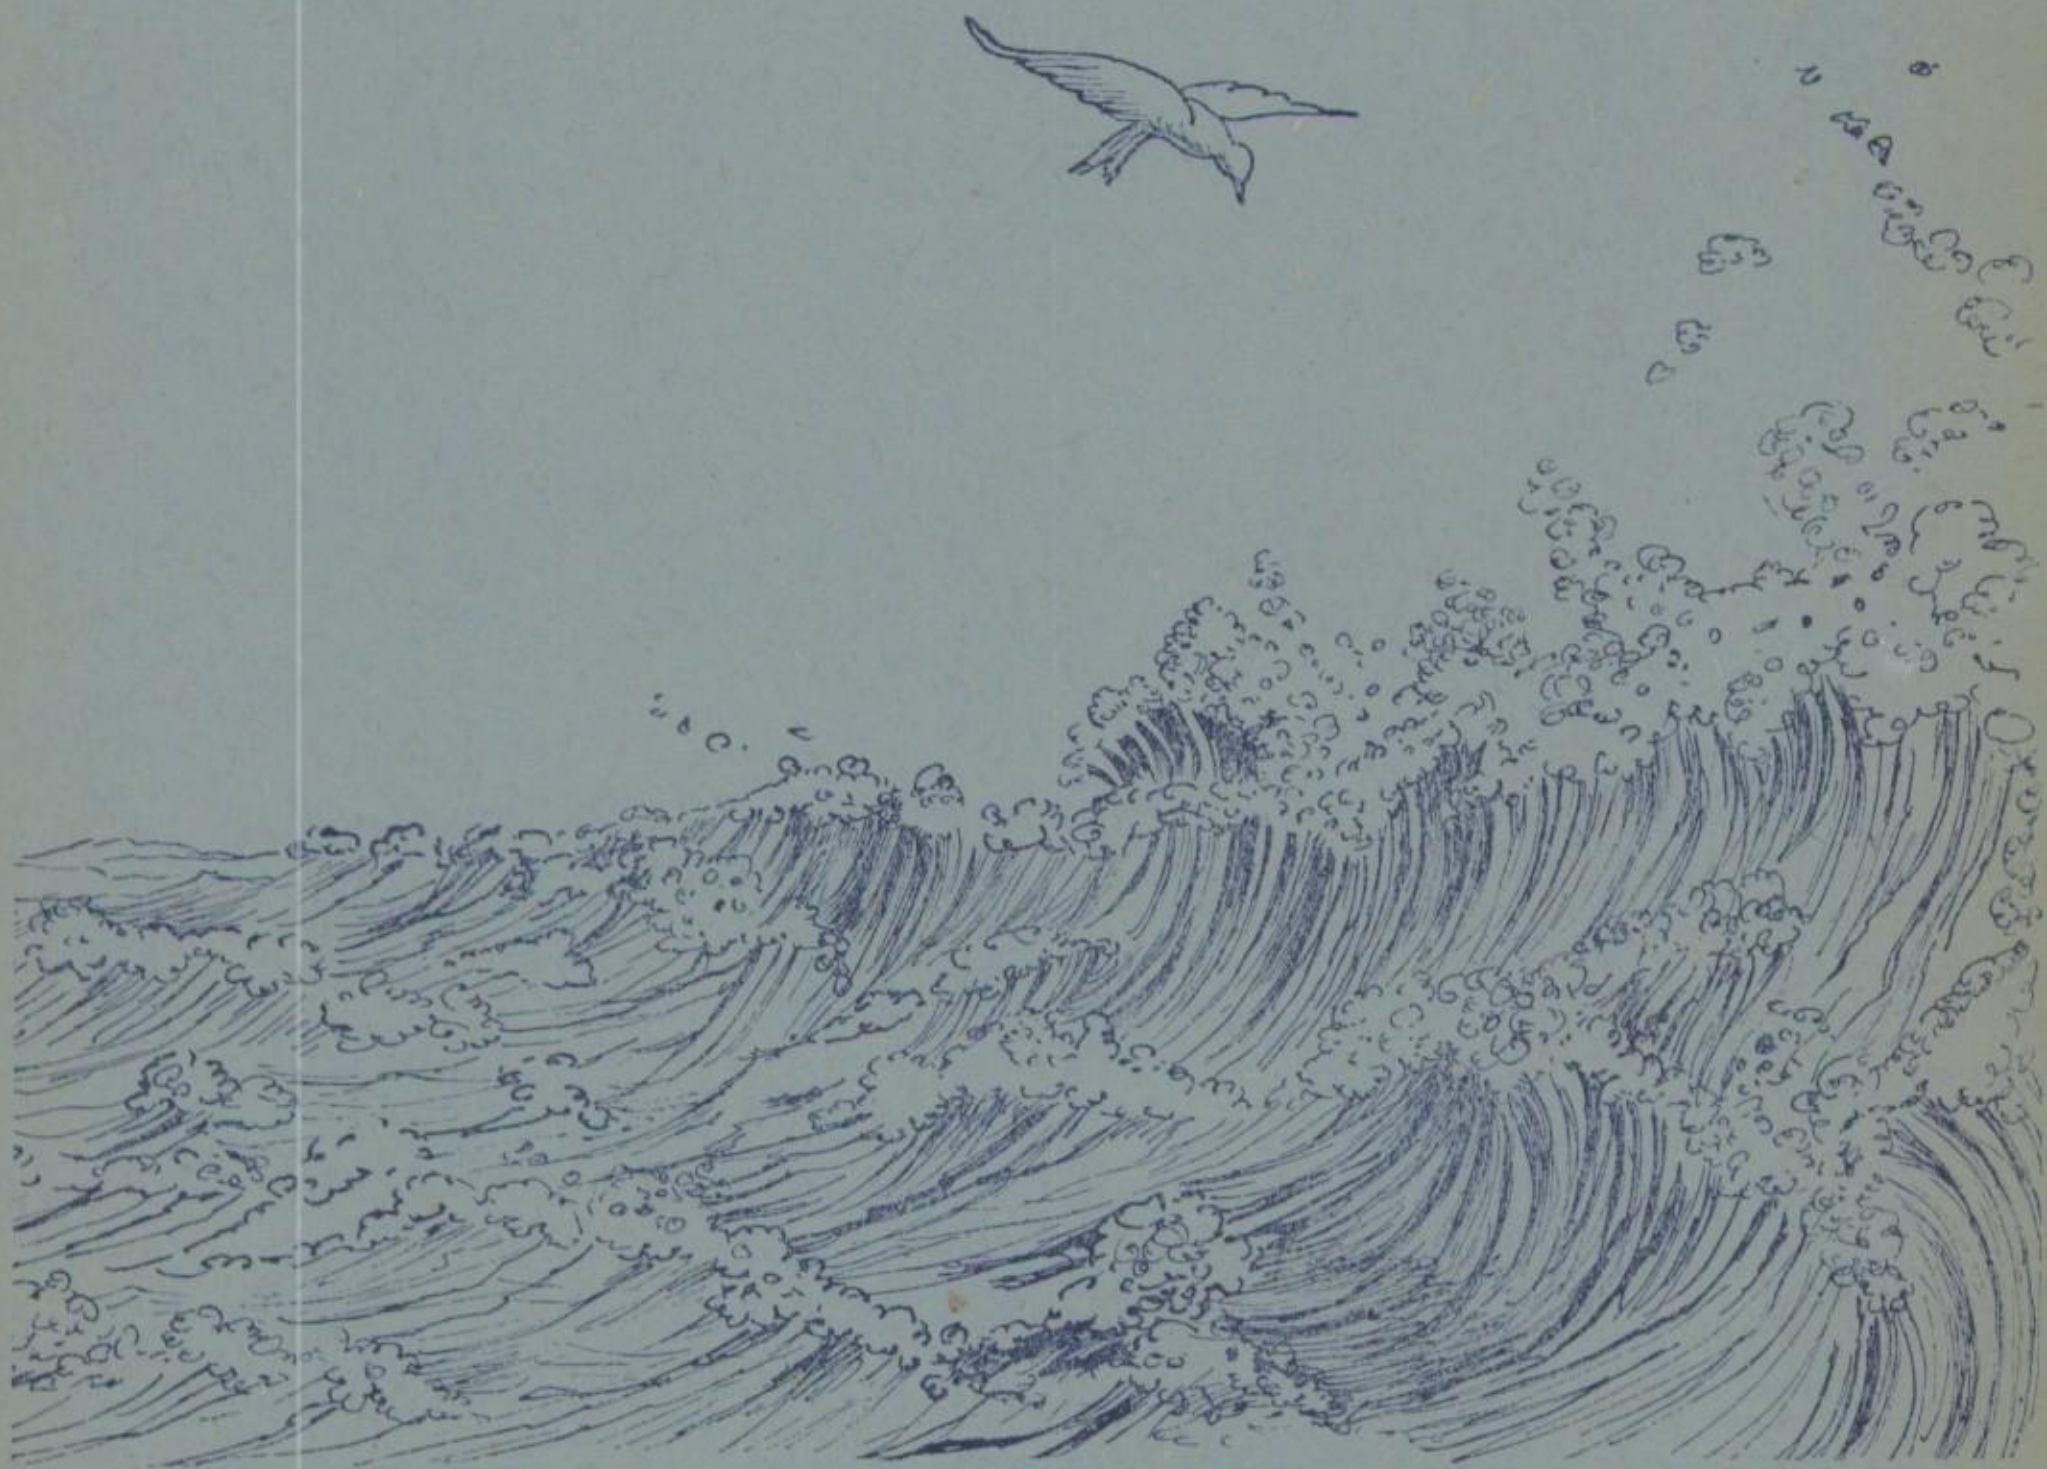

Reading for thought and discussion is the watch - word of these Junior Commercial students who scan the Reader's Digest for the weekly assignment.

Freshman Latin

These Freshmen will one day give their thoughts in true Ciceronian style. Evidence is the blackboard work of J. A. Duffy, P. Dillon, E. Kunstek.

ACTIVITIES

BAND

The Reading Catholic Band lines up previous to leaving for the Conshohocken football game at the invitation of St. Matthew's High School. School activities and games would be colorless without the spirit and animation infused by the rhythmic beat and melodious measure of our R. C. H. S. marching band.

DRUM MAJORETTE

Reading Catholic presents Helen Owens, its snappy drum majorette.

BAND DIRECTOR

Presenting Mr. Gus King, instrumental teacher, and conductor of the R. C. H. S. marching band. Orchids to Mr. Gus King for the new and extensive 1947 repertoire.

PETREL

THE STAFF OF THE ROCK AND THE PETREL

Leave R. C. H. S. late after the hurry and zest that make up those moments before the deadline.

E. Stern and G. Cuccinotta make sure that C. Fonti registers every item they have garnered. S. Natoli glances over A. Maslar's sports bulletin. R. Celmer along with F. Maslar and T. Miley casts a helpful glance at D. DeTemple's pictures. The dummy holds D. Hullinger's attention.

Another issue of the Rock is off the press! Witness the smiles as each views the fruit of his labor.

SINGING CHORALEENS OF READING CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL

Left to right, first row—M. Torcivia, J. Vince, H. Owens, J. DiFederico, C. DeAngelis, D. Breton.

Standing—R. M. Snyder, M. Capellupo, M. Mitchell N. Dombrowski, G. Ratajczak, J. Capilo, R. Buono.

“LET’S ALL SING AS THE BIRDIES SING!”

Left to right, first row—A. Vitale, C. Novak, M. Coco, D. Ciotti, C. Fonti.

Standing—D. Palladino, D. Wiesniewska, M. L. McCarthy, M. Gay, M. Stavarski, C. Natoli, A. Larkin.

DECEMBER DAYS

WE REMEMBER

The crisp spicy scent of the evergreens and the joyous spirit of the Christ Child as the sweet strains of the old, yet ever new, carols flood the halls at Christmastide.

"AGAIN WITH JOY WE GREET THEE, O FAIR AND SUNNY MAY!"

Chosen by her class-mates, Gertrude Ratajczak has the cherished honor of crowning Our Blessed Lady's statue in Saint Peter's Church. Here on a day set apart for Mary's honor the boys and girls throng in a colorful procession, whose culminating feature is the coronation of Our Lady.

Gertrude Ratajczak is pictured with her wee attendants, in the usual order, Marcia Ganster, Nancy Ratajczak, Joan Huck, Theresa Babb, Rose Marie Roske.

HOW IT HAPPENED

The Committee of Hostesses selected by the Seniors discuss tentative plans for the Annual Card Party and Promenade under the auspices of the class of '47. The affair took place January 9, 1947.

Standing, left to right—E. Ravel, M. Rapposelli, M. Marino, T. Stremba, B. McDevitt, C. Crimaldi.

Seated—C. McDevitt, F. Woligorski, A. Vitale.

HOSTESSES . . .

Left to right, seated—C. Crimaldi, A. Vitale, E. Ravel, B. McDevitt, T. Stremba.
Standing—M. Rapposelli, C. McDevitt, M. Marino, F. Woligorski.

Together with the entire senior class the hostess, Antoinette Vitale, and her aides have done a splendid job in promoting the success of the Senior Dance.

Antoinette Vitale, Hostess of the Senior Card Party and Dance held at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel.

THE MUSIC STOPPED

Just look at that expression. What could be bothering him? Do you think it's all those pretty gals or the fascination of the camera?

AND THEN . . . All seem to be having a wonderful time dancing to the tunes of Whitey Miesky's orchestra, at the Abraham Lincoln ballroom, scene of the Senior Card Party and Dance.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Hoopsterettes in their fine Reading Catholic tradition completed a fairly successful season. Despite their lack of experience the girls took third place in the City Recreation Class B League. Under the leadership of their new coach, Miss Mary Jane Myers, completed the record with 4 wins and 6 losses.

Rita Celmer, captain, led the scorers with a new record of 117, followed by Catherine DeAngelis' 100. Shirley Tobias was rated the best foul shot. Marcella Gay, Dorothy Wisniewski, Alice Symanowicz, star guards completed the starting array. Barbara McDevitt along with Rita Ciabaton showed expert playing at many of the games.

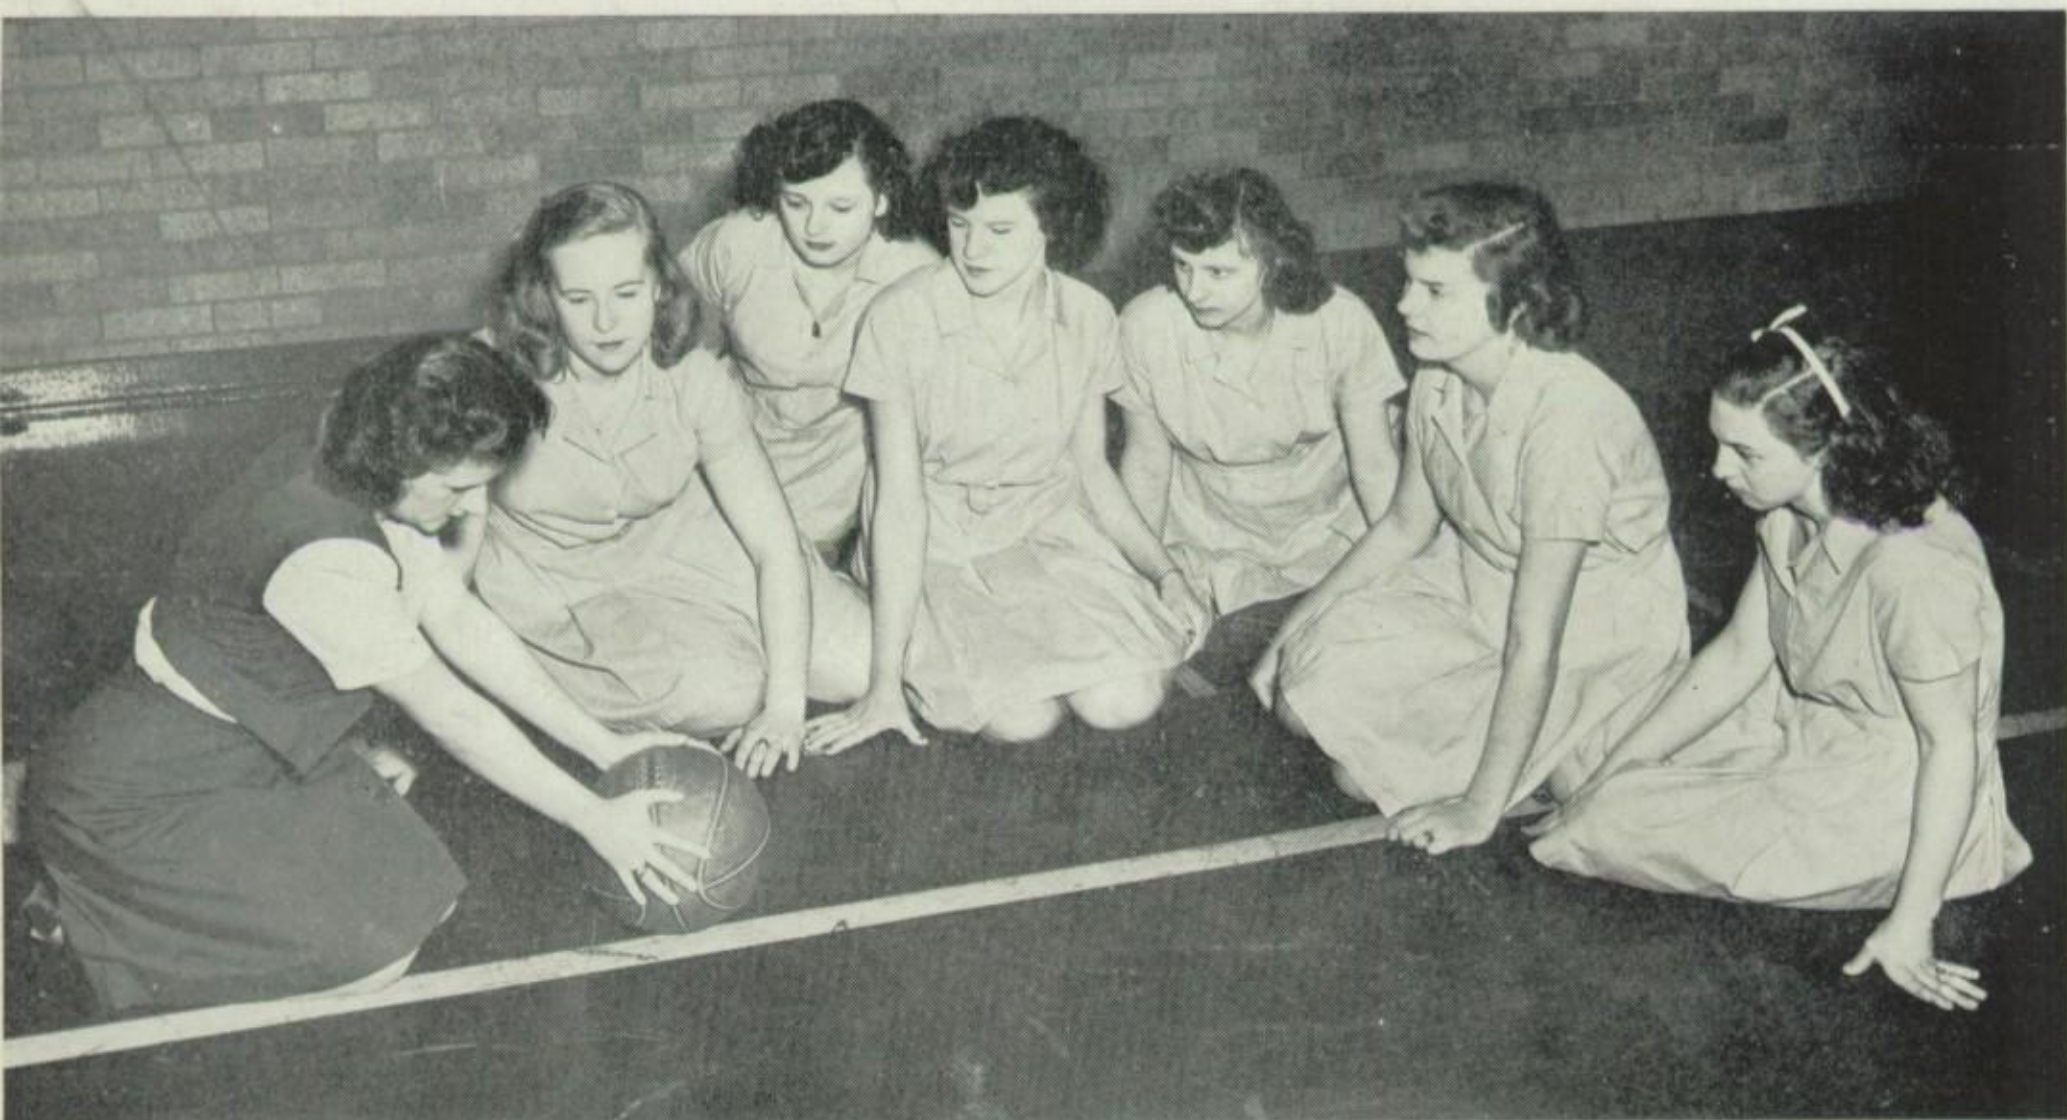

The Junior-Sophomore reserves show evidence of a future championship team.

The 1946-1947 edition of Reading Catholic's Eagles featured them under a new coach, Mr. Lewis (Lew) Bertsch who guided the feathered flock to a record of eleven wins and fourteen losses including a seven and five effort for second place laurels in the Philadelphia Catholic Suburban League. Also memorable in this season was Art Kase's 32 point performance against St. Patrick's of Norristown on February 17, 1947 which shattered a league and school record. Along with Kase, we commend those other players who served on the team from the stars to the reserves. True to the traditions and principles of their school these fine athletes who wore the Blue and Gold displayed clean play and good sportsmanship of our Catholic youth. To these youths, their objects were upheld in keeping Reading Catholic again spiritually undefeated.

FRIDAY, APRIL 12—St. Patrick's of Norristown rap Eagles 5-1 with four run uprising in second. Zdravecki four hit effort wasted.

SUNDAY, APRIL 14—Rebounding Eagles Shellack Alumni 16-4. Hitting everything that came to them the youngsters had a field day battering the former grads.

TUESDAY, APRIL 15—Reading High Jayvees Nip Eagles 3-2. Bunching four of their five blows off Zdravecki in the third inning the R. H. S. J. V's. nosed out the Eagles.

FRIDAY, APRIL 18—Eagles Primmell Police Juniors 8-0 for even number two. George Tarnoski flings three hitter.

SUNDAY, APRIL 20—St. Pat's Repeats 7-1. Poor fielding ruins Birds.

TUESDAY, APRIL 22—Malvern Nips Eagles in Eleventh Inning 7-6. For Eagles fourth reverse

READING CATHOLIC CINDERMEN

Leading from start to finish, and pacing himself like a veteran, Art Kase, Reading Catholic's half-miler, is pictured above as he breasted the tape a winner in the Special 880, feature event of the sixth annual Venske Relays at Boyertown. Trailing the R. C. flyer is Dudley Foster, of Berwyn, and behind him is Francis Woscnd, of Norristown. Jimmy Smith, of Birdsboro, finished fourth.

Seated—Rev. Bernard C. Farley, Mr. James B. Linette.

The Linette Trophy is an annual award to the player who is voted the most outstanding in furthering the interest of the team, and members of the varsity have given this honor to Richard Noll, who received the award from the donor, R. C.'s good friend and benefactor, Mr. James B. Linette, who is an example of all that is clean and fair.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The individual classes elect a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. This group looks capable of handling the job of student government. It's all right officers, I'm a law-abiding student!

HONORS

SALUTATORIAN MARY MARINO
VALEDICTORIAN EDWARD QUINTER
HONOR SPEAKER SALVATORE NATOLI

Seniors enact the last memorable event of their school days, the goal toward which they have strived so earnestly, as they leave the portals of St. Peter's Church on Graduation Day, June 8, 1947.
